

Series of Staged Readings Will Open at Intar Nov. 5

Members of its Latino Playwrights in Residence Laboratory of Intar, New York's oldest Hispanic-American theater, will present a series of staged readings Wednesdays and Sundays from Nov. 5 to Dec. 7 at the Intar Stage 2, 508 West 53d Street, between 10th and 11th Avenues. The readings will be at 7:30 P.M.

Laboratory playwrights and their works, in order of their reading dates are: Lynne Alvarez, "Mundo"; Lucky Cienfuegos, "Hustlers With Worn-Out Shoes"; Ramon Delgado, "A Little Holy Water"; Pedro Pietri, "I Dare You to Resist Me"; Tee Saralegui, "The Ash Can and the Cobra"; Eduardo Gallardo, "In Another Part of the City"; Victor Fragoso, "Initiation"; Sandra Maria Esteves, "Yerba Buena"; Michael Alasa, "Orphans," and Shamsul Alam, "Bempires."